And it is a lot of sore-muscled rookies that are jumping about to the rasping commands of their squad and platoon leaders. At least one-third of the 12,090 troops in camp to-day are rookies; rookies of the greenest variety and it will be many weeks before they will be fit for serious duty. The drilling and outfielding of the rookies began all over the camp this morning. High pressure has been brought to hear upon the youthful patriots that they may be modelled and its commander, Capt.
